An officer from Hong Kong Observatory recommends that before going out, we should pay close attention to the weather report.

If there is a thunderstorm warning, it will be windy outside. We should not go swimming so that firemen do not need to risk their lives for our safety.

We should not row a boat in Lam Wai village when there is a black rainstorm warning, so that we will not get hurt.

We should not go watching hail on top of the mountain when there is a cold weather warning. We might get frostbite if we stay outside.

Finally, remember to encourage your friends...Indoor activities are fun too. Stay inside when the weather is bad.
