

My study at school

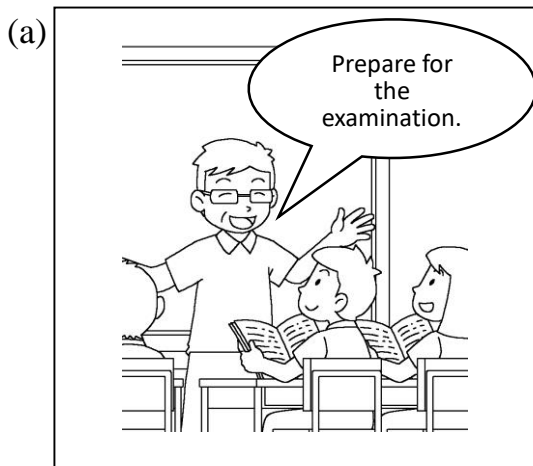

Yesterday, the teacher told us to prepare for the examination. So, I should pay attention in the class and study hard all the time. We should not be lazy and should do our homework on time.

We studied together and formed a study group in the covered playground at recess. I thought it could help each other and keep our friendship.

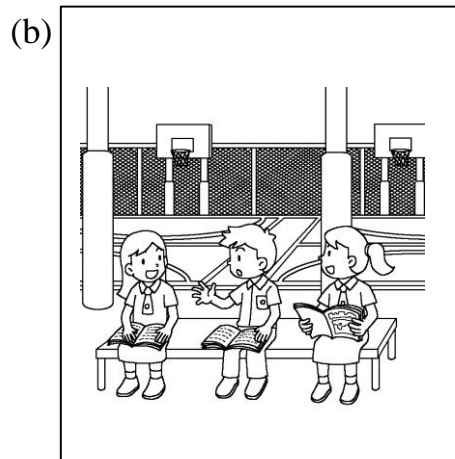

I wanted to get good results, so I stayed up late and I studied hard at night. I studied for a long time, I wanted to sleep but I had to keep on, so I felt tired.

This morning, I woke up late and went to school late, so I missed the examination.

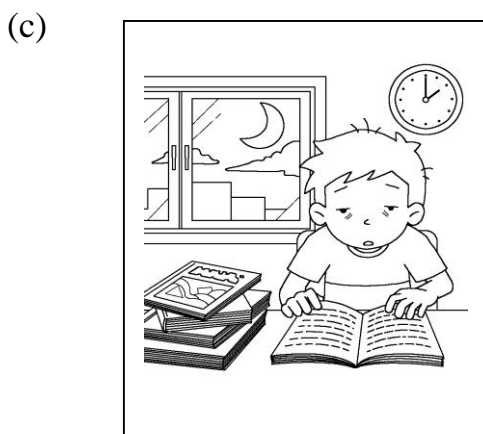

I learned in this event that we should have good habits at home and at school. We should go to bed early and go to school on time.

pay attention / in class

form / study groups
